Welcome to Agra, India

India - The Host Country

India is endowed with towering mountain ranges, rolling hills, lofty plateaus and extensive plains which have all played their role in shaping its cultural, economic and political history. The most outstanding characteristic of India, and probably one of its greatest charms, is undeniably, its diversity. India is a country with a sense of individuality and rich heritage; its civilization is unique in vitality and antiquity. It offers the visitors something special everywhere, and in everything. It is a land of treasures, temples, palaces, forts and magnificent scenery. Those seeking footprints of history will find that India has been a vast area, where races and cultures have battled and blended, and creating sublime achievements in art, religion and philosophy.

Agra

The city of Agra, the quintessence of the grand Mughal era, reigns to this day in the public mind as the embodiment of royal grace, imposing architecture and power. Agra is globally renowned as the city of the Taj Mahal. But this royal Mughal city has, in addition to the legendary Taj, many monuments that epitomize the high point of Mughal architecture. No tour to India can be complete without paying a visit to this erstwhile capital of the Mughals and the city of the Taj Mahal, the world's most beloved monument. With its laidback lifestyle and its immense wealth of architecture, handicrafts and jewellery, Agra is amongst the most remarkable city of the world.

Agra, the city of Taj Mahal, a poem in white marble built in the 16th century by Emperor Shahjahan as a monument of love. Agra was once the capital of the Mughals and the relics of their glory are scattered all over the city. From the Taj Mahal to the massive Agra Fort, the delicately carved Itmad-ud-Daulah's tomb to Akbar's deserted majestic capital Fatehpur Sikri; Agra is India's best-known destination for tourists.
